

ADA DAVIS TAKES WITNESS STAND IN HER OWN DEFENSE TODAY

"I Didn't Shoot Hammond—I Wouldn't Harm a Hair of His Head"

SAYS PISTOL WENT OFF DURING STRUGGLE

Defendant Vigorously Cross-Examined This Afternoon by Prosecutor Fitzgibbon—Big Crowd Present— Murder Trial is Drawing to a Close.

Ada Davis, the defendant in the Hammond murder trial, was unexpectedly called by the defense to the witness stand Friday. She was sworn by Clerk Hursey. She took the stand while a perceptible commotion passed over the audience. It immediately subsided as Attorney B. G. Smythe asked the witness her name. She spoke clearly while a deathly stillness prevailed in the court room. She told briefly of renting the house and purchasing the furniture. She stated that she made nearly every payment on the furniture but on one or two occasions she sent Hammond to the Parish store with the payments. On other occasions she sent Mr. Fox, the collector, to Hammond to get the money.

She told the court and jury that Hammond rented a room at her house three weeks after she took the house. Two or three other roomers were in the house after that.

"What can you say regarding Hammond's treatment of you while at your house?"

"During the first week Hammond was there, he hit me with his fist and blacked my eye. Almost every two weeks while there he struck me, sometimes oftener. When I would complain to the police, he struck me for making the complaint."

The witness stated that she sent Hammond's clothes to the Fremont hotel, where, the witness stated, Hammond was living with another woman. She went to Justice King to get a peace warrant but was refused. Hammond brought his wife to Newark from Zanesville and lived with her in the West End. The defendant then went to the Manhattan hotel to work. His wife went back to Zanesville after the death of his child. Hammond then brought his clothes to the Davis woman's house. The witness stated that Hammond was jealous and that he had frequently stated that if he (Hammond) ever caught her (Ada Davis) with any other man, he would kill them both. The witness stated that Hammond frequently struck her because she was talking to her brother.

The defendant said that on one occasion, when her sister was at her house, she (the sister) went to Mrs. Kierkoff's and Hammond was angry because she went away. A quarrel ensued and Hammond threatened to shoot Ada if she did not go after the girl. She went. In the yard of the Kierkoff's house and a further quarrel followed. The deceased pulled a revolver and fired, the ball just missing the defendant's head. She went back to the house and Hammond gave her a beating.

She testified that after he went to Herbert's saloon to work he was not sober one day. She says that his assaults grew more frequent. He threatened her life while at Herbert's saloon, saying, "You will stay where ever I stay or you won't stay on earth. I'll stay in the penitentiary."

She told of one occasion when she tried to escape from the house when he caught her and brought her back. He kept her from going to bed until 4 o'clock in the morning, or until he was too sleepy to keep his eyes open. She told of numerous occasions when he kept her in the yard during the severest weather. Hammond would frequently drive her from the house at 2 o'clock in the morning, when she would go to the home of her mother in Oklahoma.

"Why did you do that?" said Mr. Smythe.

"I was afraid of him," said the witness.

"What were you afraid of?" continued her attorney.

"I was afraid that he would strike me some day and kill me."

"Did he ever strike you again?"

"Yes, he hit me on the nose once and broke my nose. It has never been straight since. No, that was not in this city."

The witness stated that she was 38 years old and that Hammond was other boarders around the house while he was collecting.

Lucile Madigan, aged 15 years, who lived next door to the Davis home in Monroe street, testified that she saw Hammond strike the defendant with his fist.

Friday afternoon Miss Davis was again on the stand. She said she had known Hammond four years, having met him while visiting in Zanesville. He had a wife and child but was not living with them. She visited him in Cambridge also. She said a B. and O man named Mason had a room in the house, but a week after Hammond arrived Mason left.

Mrs. Hammond came to Newark but witness did not see her. Hammond visited witness while his wife was here. She said she paid for the house and furnishings, but she said she did not work for the first ten months. Said she had some money when she took the house but only paid $5 down on the furniture. She worked at the Manhattan hotel two weeks. She said Hammond was in Newark the night his wife committed suicide in Zanesville.

The woman was then cross examined as to the scene in the Monroe street house. She denied having used profane language when Hammond entered the house, but said she had used such language on other occasions.

The witness repeated the scene in the room when Hammond entered. Said Hammond was drunk though she did not smell liquor on his breath. She said she took the pistol from the stand to keep Hammond from getting it. She went into the yard, and Hammond followed asking her to return, saying he wouldn't harm her. He later threatened her if she did not come back, then she returned. As she tried to pass him Hammond caught hold of her. Hammond caught her hand holding the gun. She said that while struggling for the gun it was discharged. She said his hand enclosed her hand while fighting for possession of the gun.

She testified that the gun fell to the floor after the shot was fired.

Regarding Hammond's objections to Miss Davis' sister visiting at Kierkoff's house the witness stated that Hammond "didn't like the woman."

In reference to the trouble she had with Hammond when her nose was broken, she testified that the trouble occurred in Zanesville.

At 2:20 the cross examination was concluded. With a few exceptions her testimony was unshaken. Ada Davis was on the stand nearly four hours.

With the conclusion of Miss Davis' testimony the defense rested its case. The prosecution is preparing to introduce other testimony in the way of rebuttal. Dr. Smith will probably be called.

Dr. D. M. Smith was again placed on the stand. He denied that he told the defendant that Hammond would recover. The court refused to allow the witness to testify as to whether he had formed any opinion at that time as to the wounded man's probable recovery.

Owing to the late hour Friday afternoon, it was decided to defer the arguments in the case until Monday of next week. No court will be held on Saturday. The jury was allowed the privilege of going to their homes as no objections were offered by the prosecution or the defense.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

The Ada Davis murder case is rapidly nearing the end and in all probability the testimony will all have been submitted before adjournment Friday. The defense has put up its fight, as shown by the testimony submitted Thursday, almost entirely on the grounds of self defense. Nearly every witness who testified had either seen the dead man assault the defendant or heard him threaten her personally.

It was proved by numerous witnesses that Hammond was of an ugly, quarrelsome disposition and that he was a hard drinker. It was shown by testimony of the neighbors that he frequently came to the Davis home either very drunk or at least very abusive. Several Monroe street residents testified that Hammond had driven the defendant out of the house and into the yard when the weather was extremely cold and the ground covered with snow. He was seen at times, according to the testimony, to grasp the defendant by the hair and treat her brutally in many other ways.

The witness on the stand as the Advocate went to press Thursday was Mrs. Hanna Outman, who resides just across the street from where Nic Davis lived.

She saw Mrs. Henry Davis going into the house on the Friday morning of the tragedy. She heard nothing until that time about the tragedy.

Three weeks before the shooting, Mrs. Oatman heard Miss Davis scream and saw the defendant jumping from a window. The witness testified that she frequently heard the couple quarreling. She saw the Davis woman many times with her head tied up and bruises on her face and head. On the cross examination the witness stated that she came to Newark from Mary Ann township and that she knew the defendant's parents there.

Gustav Hummel, a car inspector employed at the B. & O. yards was on duty at the inspector's office on the early Friday morning of the tragedy and called the surgeon for a woman whom he thought was Miss Davis. Miss Alice Madigan, a next door neighbor, testified the same as her mother, who preceded her on the stand. Mrs. Susan Shepard and Mrs. Nellie Blair each told of frequent quarrels between the defendant and Hammond. Charles Barcus who lives on Fourth street near the corporation line, regarded Hammond as a dangerous man. He stated that he had known the defendant for ten years. He got acquainted with Hammond six months before the tragedy. He had had some trouble with Hammond.

John Ebert, who was employed as an expressman about the time of the shooting, testified that he had hauled the personal effects of John Hammond from the Davis woman's house to the saloon on Union street. This was introduced to show that Hammond did not have any clothes at the place and that his statement that he went to the house on the night of the shooting was false.

Edward Graef and Frank Graef testified that Hammond was at one time employed in a saloon owned by Frank Graef. He was a hard drinker and when drunk was quarrelsome.

Mrs. Troxell, a young woman who formerly lived in Zanesville, stated that she worked for the Robinson Glass company while Hammond was foreman of the packing room. He was disagreeable and over bearing to the employees and was quarrelsome.

Squire L. S. Lake was put upon the stand. He stated that Hammond was brought into his court on two different occasions for assault upon Miss Davis. Once he was fined $5 and costs. Another time the prosecuting witness did not appear at the time set for hearing.

Squire Lake said that a mutual agreement between the defendant and Hammond was made in his office, which was witnessed by him (Squire Lake). Hammond was to leave the Davis home and remain away. Squire Lake sent his constable, William Brooks, to the Davis home and got Hammond's effects. "And isn't it a fact, Squire," said Prosecutor Fitzgibbon, "that the same express who hauled the goods away, took them back the same day?" This question brought no answer but caused a ripple of laughter in the court room.

HOCH TO HANG

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 15.—The Supreme court has affirmed the Johann Hoch case, and he will be hanged on February 23. Action is yet to be taken in the Briggs case.

MAN AND WIFE

Shot Down by Three Desperadoes, Who Flew to the Hills.

Nolan, W. Va., Dec. 15.—Benjamin Endicott was shot and killed and his wife was seriously injured by Fred and Howard Trippett and another young man whose name is unknown. A son of Endicott was intoxicated and was with the Trippetts and their companion. The elder Endicott with his wife went to search for the son. When he was found they were pleading with him to return home. He refused, and as they started away the Trippetts and their companion fired on the aged couple. The Trippetts have fled to Kentucky and a posse has gone in pursuit. Threats of violence are made.

Will Advance Wages.

Boston, Dec. 15.—In the woolen manufacturers in the Rhode Island and Connecticut are planning about 5,000 operatives to advance they will follow the plan of the American Woolen company which recently decided to advance the wages of the 50,000 hands in its mills 30 per cent on Jan. 1. It is estimated that other manufacturers will follow the wage schedule of the Rhode Island and adopt the new scale on New Year's day.

OUT OF WORK

And in Poor Health William Smeadley Commits Suicide

GLASSBLOWER DRINKS ACID

NOTE REQUESTS BODY BE SENT TO STREATOR, ILLINOIS

Deceased Came to Newark From Coshocton and Had Been Here Short Time

William Smeadley, a glass blower, who came here about a week ago from Coshocton, O., where he had been working, was found dead in his room, at the home of Harry Marple, on Elmwood avenue, Friday morning about 10 o'clock, with an empty carbolic acid bottle lying near.

The man had been in very poor health, having recently undergone two serious surgical operations, and was unable to secure work.

He was last seen at the Everett factory, Thursday about 4 p. m. On Friday morning as Miss Neva Marple was passing the room occupied by Smeadley, she noticed through the partly open door, that the lower limbs of the man were lying over the edge of the bed. After passing several times and noticing no movement by the man, she became alarmed, and opening the door discovered the lifeless body of Smeadley. Nearly was found a note in which he stated:

"Am out of work, and in bad health, so what's the use living?"

He requested that his body be sent to Streator, Ill., where he has a wife and family. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen, Streator Camp No. 4141, in good standing; also a member of the Bottle Blowers' union.

Coroner C. F. Legee took charge of the body and it was removed to the J. A. McGonagle morgue and will be shipped to Streator at 6 o'clock this evening, in charge of the local Bottle Blowers' union.

SCOTT'S APPEAL

President of Provident Life Makes a Request of Prosecutor Charles E. Hughes.

New York, Dec. 15.—Edward W. Scott, president of the Provident Savings Life Assurance society, made an earnest appeal to Chairman Armstrong of the insurance investigating committee to exclude from the hearing certain statements bearing on his relations with the Equitable Life Assurance society, of which he was formerly Australian agent. Charles E. Hughes, counsel of the investigating committee, had asked Mr. Scott whether the Equitable Life Assurance society had not a claim of $100,000 against him. Mr. Scott at first declared that there was no such claim against him, and then Mr. Hughes presented letters that passed between Mr. Scott and President Alexander on that subject in 1901 in which President Alexander asked Mr. Scott to make a formal admission in writing that his accounts with the society showing balances of $47,000 due the society were accurate. In one letter President Alexander wrote that Mr. Scott had accepted the accounts. Mr. Scott's letters to President Alexander proposed a conference, but made no admissions as to the acceptance of the accounts.

ANNAPOLIS HAZING.

Washington, Dec. 15.—With a congressional investigation of the naval academy hazing in sight, naval officers here are engaged in unofficial controversies with Congress as to where lies the responsibility for the present situation at Annapolis. Congress apparently believes the officers have winked at "time honored running" of pupils in the same way they winked at the sale of honor finish fights up to the time of the Branch-Morrie fight. Officers say Congress has neutralized the effort of the anti-hazing law by reinstating boys dismissed under its provisions.

PHILIPPINE RAILROAD.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Bids were opened at the war department today for construction of 1,200 miles of railroad in the Philippines to be modern and thoroughly equipped.

GOVERNOR DISMISSED.

Berlin, Dec. 15.—The Kaiser has dismissed Herr Pothmer, governor of German Germany, for inefficiency and cruelty to the natives.

BIG CAMPAIGN AGAINST HAZING

TWO MIDSHIPMEN WILL BE SENT AWAY FROM THE NAVAL ACADEMY.

One for Hazing and the Other For Not Reporting the Occurrence of the Episode.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Hazing of every kind, it is announced, will be stamped out of the naval academy, regardless of the number of dismissals from the brigade of midshipmen necessary to bring about this result. Two midshipmen will be dismissed from the academy within a few days by the secretary of the navy, the one for hazing and the other for countenancing it by failure while on duty to report its occurrence. Other dismissals will follow as soon as midshipmen are found guilty of hazing or of countenancing it. Aroused by the condition of affairs which reports show to exist at the academy so far as the treatment of fourth-class men are concerned, Secretary Bonaparte telephoned to Rear Admiral James H. Sands, superintendent of the academy, a request to come to Washington as soon as possible for a conference. This conference will be the initial step in a new and vigorous campaign to be waged at Annapolis against hazing. Congressional investigation of the conditions at the academy has already been proposed in a resolution introduced in the house by Representative Loud of Michigan.

What Midshipmen Say.

Mt. Holly, N. J., Dec. 15.—Midshipman Warren A. Vandever, in a letter to his parents, states that he was not on duty Tuesday night at the time the hazing occurred at the Annapolis naval academy for which his dismissal has been recommended by Admiral Sands. The midshipman, who is accused of failing to report the hazing, which resulted seriously to a first-year cadet, Jerdone P. Kimbrough, says that the hazing was done in the watch before he was placed on duty, and that he knew nothing of it until the case had been investigated by the officer in charge.

INDICTMENTS IN REBATE CASES

Federal Grand Jury Returns Eight True Bills Against Shippers and Agents.

Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—Eight indictments were returned by the federal grand jury against shippers, freight agents and common carriers in the rebate cases brought to the attention of the grand jury by United States District Attorney J. Whitaker Thompson. Among the indictments are: Great Northern Railway company for offering a rebate to R. D. Wood & Company of this city on a shipment of 1,500 tons of iron piping to Winnipeg; L. W. Lake of New York, general eastern agent of the Mutual Transit company, granting and giving a rebate to the Wood company; Walter Wood, George Wood, Smart Wood and Richard Wood, members of the Wood company, accepting and receiving rebates.

Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—In the chamber of deputies there was considerable opposition to the Franco-Russian commercial convention which was signed Sept. 29. The debate showed the existence of great dissatisfaction relative to the concessions received by France, which were regarded as not being equivalent to those granted to Russia. Discussion of the matter went over.

FRANCO-RUSSIAN TREATY OPPOSED

Paris, Dec. 15.—In the chamber of deputies there was considerable opposition to the Franco-Russian commercial convention which was signed Sept. 29. The debate showed the existence of great dissatisfaction relative to the concessions received by France, which were regarded as not being equivalent to those granted to Russia. Discussion of the matter went over.

Garfield

Summoned by Defense as a Witness in Beef Trust Case.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Considerable difficulty in securing jurors is being met with in the "beef trust" case, and during the examination of witnesses, clashes between counsel were frequent. It developed that Commissioner of Corporations James R. Garfield and his ex-assistant, Dr. E. A. Brandt, have practically become witnesses for the defense, inasmuch as Mr. Garfield has been served with a subpoena, issued at the instance of the defense, to produce every book, paper, record or report he has now or did have, and be ready to testify concerning it. By this it is declared the defense will endeavor to show that Mr. Garfield has sworn statements in his possession which were made by the packers during Commissioner Garfield's investigation of the business methods of the "beef trust" and that in view of this fact the packers have gained immunity from criminal prosecution.

LAWSON

Is in Fight Against the Standard Oil Crowd to a Finish

PUTS IN FIVE MORE MILLIONS

HE WILL STAKE HIS ALL AND "SYSTEM" SAYS HE'LL LOSE

Attention of People Over Whole Country Directed to Great Battle on Stock Exchange.

New York, Dec. 15.—The attention of people all over the country was directed to the New York stock exchange today where Thomas W. Lawson and the Standard Oil crowd have been engaged for some time past in a deadly struggle.

Amalgamated Copper stock up to yesterday had soared above par. As Lawson has predicted that it would go the other way and had formed a ten million dollar pool to back this opinion, it was not very difficult to guess that Lawson and friends had been hard hit. Lawson, with his usual frankness, issued a statement saying that the losses of the pool aggregate $3,500,000, but that he was still in the ring and still believed he was right. This morning in a lengthy statement, Lawson issued another defi to what he terms the "system," announcing that he has added $5,000,000 to the first pool, making $11,000,000 in all to continue operations along the same line. He said the money put in by him embraces every dollar of his fortune.

"If I fail," he continued, "the world will know it by my public bankruptcy in which event I will be compelled to fall back upon my pen unaided with money to fight the battle to a finish."

In view of this critical situation it is no wonder that many eyes are turned toward Wall street, and the stock exchange. The first quotations in Amalgamated Copper were slightly favorable to Lawson. They showed a decline of nearly a point from the 100-1-4 at which the stock closed last night. A further drop to 99 followed and then the stock rose again, going up in fractions until at 10:40 it reached 100-1-8, dropping back almost immediately to 99-7-8. The decline was probably the result of Lawson's bold front, displayed in his statement, and the subsequent rise was undoubtedly due to support extended by Lawson's foes.

If the predictions of the so-called Standard Oil clique can be believed Lawson's finish is a thing of the near future. They assured friends that metal would go to twenty cents and that Amalgamated Copper stock would go to 110 before New Year's day.

Boston, Oct. 15.—When newspapermen today asked Thomas W. Lawson whether he was "broke" as Wall street gossip had it, he replied in characteristic fashion:

"My portion of the $6,000,000 remaining of my first pool of $10,000,000 and of the $5,000,000 additional $11,000,000 embraces every dollar of my fortune. If my operation is unsuccessful I shall lose all of it, which will mean I shall have lost $15,000,000 belonging to myself and those who have had faith enough in me to join me in copper operations."

"If my operations which begin today are successful, I expect to secure profits of from 100 to 200 per cent upon the amount with which I will tackle the system. If I fail the world will know it by my public bankruptcy in which event I shall be compelled to fall back upon my pen, unaided with money, to fight the battle I have begun to a finish." He says he asks no sympathy.

JUST ONE YEAR AGO

Cleveland, O., Dec. 15.—It is one year ago yesterday that Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick was arrested, placed in jail and her career in high finance ended.

Hollerbach & May of Evansville, Ind., were awarded the contract for constructing government dam No. 1 in the Ohio river, near Wheeling, W. Va. The estimated cost is $4,500,000.

Four children were drowned in the Monroeville, Pa., mill near Brownsville, Pa., as a result of the passenger car of a Westinghouse colliding with the tail of a locomotive and sinking in 14 feet of water.

to be released from all further connection with the athletic department at O. S. U.

Although Mr. Sweetland's contract has with it a stipulation providing for the services of State's last season football coach as coach and trainer of the 1906 track team, he prefers that the board release him from all such obligation.

Feeling an inability to better the working formulas of affairs athletic and possibly, that all due consideration has not been given his position, the coach has thought it best to sever
as soon as possible.

The fact that the privileges allowe-him in his contract may have been a feature that did not appeal to him. At any rate, such action would excuse the coach from keeping his side of the deal intact by remaining the rest of the year. To be sure, these are not the only factors in the case.

The outcome of the matter is in the air. A committee of three of the board has been appointed to take it up and give thorough consideration and report in two or three days.

If Sweetland's proposition is accepted unconditionally, the question of a trainer and coach for the track season which is to begin at the opening of the winter term, is one that will require prompt attention. As a trainer and worker with the track performers Mr. Sweetland has given excellent service and in this department his absence will be the most keenly felt.

WHAT HE WANTED.

New York Salesman Did Not Find It
Until He Reached Newark.

Irving Johnson, a drummer who is well known to many of our merchants was in town yesterday, stopping at the Warden, where the Advocate man heard him tell a few new stories that he had collected on his last trip.
"I am glad to see," said Mr. Johnson, "that Newark is right up to date in cigars as well as in other things.
I have been hunting for a Wadsworth Bros.' Chicos in the last half dozen towns, and did not find one until I went into J. W. Collins & Son's this morning. That cigar is all right, I can tell you, and although it cost only 5c., yet I push them out to my customers, knowing that they will think it is a 10c. or two for a quarter."

The Wadsworth Bros.' Chicos is an all Havana filled cigar that smokes just as a cigar ought from start to finish, burning evenly with a long, clean, firm ash.

Its flavor appeals to the lover of high grade cigars, and its price to all sensible smokers. Dec 1-8-15.

A Model That Would Surely Make a Hit

"I HAVE here a model," said the inventor to the manufacturer, "of an appliance that is sure to have a large sale if it is put on the market."
"Indeed?" said the manufacturer.
"That is most interesting. What is your invention?"

"This is a combination lawn mower and snow shovel. By simply twisting this knob to the left the grass cutting mechanism is turned into a set of paddles that literally sweep the snow to both sides of the path. You see, by combining both implements in one, together with perfect ease of operation and great saving of space and strength and—"

"I'm sorry," interrupted the manufacturer, "but it will never go. Don't you see, by the end of the summer the average man is so tired of and angry with his lawn mower that he hails the snow shovel with joy, and by the end of the winter he feels just as bitter toward the snow shovel and is once more delighted to push the lawn mower. But if you combine the two then he will simply have the memory of one ever before him while he is operating the other."

Realizing the truth of the statement, the inventor took up his model and went out, saying that perhaps he could twist the thing around and convert it into a mop holder and dress hanger for women, as they would buy anything—

Strategy Failed.

Little Mary went shopping with her mother. She had a great desire for a sash, but her mother decided her expenditures should be confined to more important things and endeavored to divert the child's attention by recalling that a great man had said as he walked the streets and looked into the shop windows, "How many things there are I do not want."
"But," protested the little girl, "a man don't want a sash."—Philadelphia

The Animals At Christmas

SAID Santa Claus, "Tis Christmas eve
(The animals looked pleasant).
And each of you will now receive
His yearly Christmas present.
But I'd be glad if every guest
Would mention what he'd like the best."

The Tapir said: "That pleases me.
I'll state succinctly, therefore,
If I may be so bold and free—
The only thing I care for
Would be those matches on the shelf,
With which I'd like to light myself."

His wish was granted. Then up spake
A timid little Adder:
"Sir, but a trifle it will take
To make my Christmas gladder;
A slate and pencil, if you please,
Would let me do my sums with ease."

The Reindeer said: "You may believe
I'd be a happy fellow
If I were sure I would receive
A good sized umberbellow;
And also I'd like four golosh-Es and a rubber mackintosh."

The Pig a fountain pen desired;
The Cow tin horns requested;
The Horse, for a new hat acquired,
His gratitude attested.
The Caterpillar said: "I am Proud of my caterpillar sham."

So all of them were gay and glad,
And they were happy, very;
They liked the presents that they had
And waxed exceedingly merry.
Dear humans, at your Christmas feasts,
Pray take a lesson from the beasts.

HIS CHRISTMAS SERMON.

An Aged Wayfarer Who Taught a Curate Contentment.

An English clergyman declares that the best Christmas sermon he ever heard was preached by a woman—and in three words!

"In my little parish, under the sweep of the Sussex downs," he says, "I was walking swiftly home one night buffeted about by the gray clouds of driving rain that the fierce south-wester swept landward from the sea when a poor, helpless, aged woman asked me for a trifle for a night's lodging.

"Curates are supposed always to be poor. It was Christmas time, and I had just parted with my last sixpence at a lonely hamlet where work was scarce. Still I could not leave my stranger in the street, so I asked her to come with me to my lodgings.

"She shambled along through the mud with her streaming clothes and clouted boots, and we entered my little room. My thoughtful landlady had made my table ready. A plate of hot tobacco was standing in the fender; the kettle sang vociferously, as if impatient to be used; in front of the fire stood my slippers and an easy chair.

"To my surprise, my poor, worn, haggard companion raised her dripping hands and burst into tears with the words, 'Oh, what luxury!'"

"That was the best Christmas sermon I ever heard, and the only one I have never forgotten."—Youth's Companion.

Christmas Day In Russia.

In certain parts of Russia the children at Christmas eve begin playing pranks that are as odd as they are amusing. Chief among their drolleries is that of disguising themselves as animals and in the assumed costume of wild beasts disporting themselves through the neighborhood. As many skins as possible are secured, and in these the leading boys are clad. Wolves, bears, ostriches even, are represented.
All of the boys gather in one party,
those who are not posing as brutes forming a train for the escort and display of the pseudo menagerie. Some act as keepers, holding their disguised companions in check, while others startle the quiet of the night by rude strains drawn from harsh and primitive musical instruments.—Torches are borne, and in the fitful light, opposed by black shadows, the scene is at once grotesque and vivid.

A Thoughtful Husband.

What is more touching at the holiday season than to see an old man planning a pleasant surprise for his aged wife?
"I'm tryin' ter raise money enough ter git my wife a new dress for Christmas, sah," said Uncle Ebony to Mr.
Featherstone.
"Ah, I see. You want me to give you some chores to do, uncle, eh?"
"Well, no, sah. I tought perhaps you could git de old lady a job at washin', sah!"

Christmas Presents.

The giving of presents on Christmas day undoubtedly owes its origin to a general idea to carry into practice the biblical mandate, "Peace on earth; good will to men." At first the great lords made presents to their retainers, and the season was marked by universal charity. By degrees the practice of Christmas giving spread until now everybody gives his or her friends presents.

Why Tommy Is Doing Penance.

Grandma—Are you looking forward to your Christmas dinner, Tommy?
Tommy—Yes, grandma, but not so much as Johnny Jones.
Grandma—Why so, Thomas?
Tommy—His grandma died last week, and he'll get all her Christmas turkey.

Changing Countenance.

He changed countenance rapidly.
Shipping on his face the Santa Claus mask, he made a triumphant entry into the parlor with the bundle of toys.

The Past Versus the Present.

On Christmas time is come a fast.
So cheer up girls be pleasant
And shake the fellow with the past
For that one with the present.

Christmas Eve In Bethlehem

BETHLEHEM, the central spot of interest in the Holy Land at Christmas, is a small town set in the heart of a hammedanism, where once a year the Greek church grants the use of the grotto of the Nativity to the Latin church. The ceremonies begin on Dec.
24 by the image of the youthful Christ being carried from the basilica of St.
Helena to the sacred grotto of the Nativity, where the traditional spot of Christ's birth is marked by a silver star set in the rocky pavement.

The service begins at 10 o'clock in the evening. It opens with the chanting of psalms without any musical accompaniment. The patriarch of Jeru-

TYPICAL BETHLEHEM FAMILY OF TODAY.

Salem usually officiates in the grotto, but on this occasion he is represented by the Latin bishop. The interior of the church is most picturesque, for there are only a few chairs provided for foreign visitors, while the bulk of the congregation is made up of the Bethlemites women in their blue dresses with red frontlets, wearing peaked caps when married and flat caps covered by white veils when single.

As they enter the church they at first kneel down and then sit upon the ground in true oriental fashion. "In the dimly lighted church," says one who has seen the service, "these squatting varicolored figures, with their beautiful faces lit up by fits and starts by flashes of the candles, intent on devotion, seem like so many modern Madonnas come to celebrate the glory of the first Madonna."

Precisely at midnight the pontifical high mass is celebrated, the figure of Christ is brought in a basket and deposited upon the high altar, and the procession forms to accompany it to the crypt. As the long, chanting procession winds through the dimly lighted church there is something weirdly solemn about the ceremony, and as the sacred image passes various acts of worship are performed by the devout attendants. On the procession moves through the rough hewn, dimly lit passages from the Latin church to the grotto of the Nativity.

When the procession of richly robed ecclesiastics reaches the silver star set in the pavement the priests pause and stand in a group about the basket, which is deposited upon the star.
Around this star is the inscription, "Hic virginis natus est" ("Here he was born of a virgin"), for this is the spot upon which tradition places the actual birth of Jesus. There the impressive narrative of the birth of Jesus as found in the gospels is slowly recited, and when the passage (Luke ii, 7), "And she brought forth her firstborn Son and wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn," is read the figure is reverently picked up from the star and carried over to the opposite side of the grotto, where it is put into a rock cut manger. This concludes the service.—London Sphere.

Mistletoe Myths.

Many English girls believe that they will not be wedded inside of twelve months unless they have at least one kiss under the mistletoe. In many countries a berry is plucked from the mistletoe with each kiss, and when there are no berries no kisses are allowed. Mistletoe used to be considered a charm or amulet to ward off the baleful influence of witches. It was also considered that its influence was irresistible, that no one could possibly pass beneath it without yielding to its power, and hence both maids and bachelors submit to the satisfaction which has since become customary.—

To make chocolate caramels dissolve over a fire one cupful of molasses and two teaspoonfuls of sugar; add one-quarter of a pound of grated chocolate and a piece of butter the size of an egg; boil for fifteen or twenty minutes; pour into flat buttered dishes to the depth of a quarter of an inch and when cold cut into squares one inch in size.

Christmas In Cornwall.

In Cornwall Christmas eve is a special holiday with children, who are allowed to sit up all night and drink to the "mock" as the Yule log is called there.

MRS. LOUISA METZ 99 YEARS OLD

OLDEST WOMAN IN LICKING COUNTY DIED HERE ON FRIDAY.

Had Been in Remarkably Good Health Up to Past Few Days. Funeral Sunday.

Mrs. Louisa Metz, aged 99 years, the oldest woman in Licking county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Isabelle McCahon, in the Woodbridge block, corner Church and Third streets, Friday. Mrs. Metz has been in remarkably good health, considering her advanced age, until the past few days, when she became ill, and owing to her advanced age, her illness was fatal.

Mrs. Metz was born in Maryland, October 6, 1806, and came with her parents to West Bedford, Coshocton county, at the age of six years. Her husband, Mr. John Metz, died sixty years ago. The deceased is survived by a daughter and two sons, Mrs. Isabelle McCahon of this city, William Metz of West Newark, John Metz of West Bradford. Mrs. Metz has resided with her daughter, Mrs. McCahon for the past 25 years and is well known throughout the city.

The funeral services will take place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence in the Woodbridge block, Rev. T. A. Cosgrove officiating. Interment in Cedar Hill.

LIBERTY LOVING FINNS.

History and Character of a People Long Oppressed.

Whether or not the Finns gain absolute independence, they will realize many benefits from the revolutionary movement in Russia. The czar has been compelled to grant them a number of reforms, including restoration of their ancient diet and constitution, but a large party is said to favor nothing less than complete separation of the duchy of Finland from the Russian empire. The Finns are a very industrious people and much more intelligent than the masses of their neighbors the Russians. The capital of Finland, Helsinki, which is a city of 100,000 people, has five times as many bookstores in proportion to population as St. Petersburg. It is a well built city, and many of the business structures would do credit to New York or Chicago. The Finns are not dwellers in cities, as a rule, however. They are mostly engaged in agriculture and stock raising. Women often work in the fields with men.

About a thousand years ago the ancestors of the present Finns lived in the Volga region, but were driven northward and in time became subject to Sweden. Wishing to Christianize them, the Swedes in 1157 sent to them Henrik, the English born bishop of Upsala, who began the work of their conversion, but was killed by adherents of the pagan beliefs and thus became Finland's patron saint and martyr. For over 500 years Finland remained an appendage of the Swedish crown, enjoying autonomy and constitutional government and developing a simple, substantial type of civilization. Then it came under the rule of the Russian empire, and the attempt of the alien emperors to denationalize the Finns has met with steady and sometimes desperate resistance.

The Finns are very fond of singing or reciting the poems or ballads in which the folklore and early annals of their race have been handed down. These poems, which have been preserved by oral tradition, were collected and published in 1835 under the title of "Kalevala" (abode of the heroes). This constitutes the national epic of Finland and in form and contents is the prototype of Longfellow's "Havva".

From waste paper alone one railroad last year realized $5,000.

A Chicago man attended a ball and by using a odometer, reached the conclusion that a girl dances about 16 miles in the course of an evening.

GET BUSY!

Ever stayed away from an important event, thinking it was not going to amount to much, and then been sore enough afterwards to kick yourself when you learned what a big thing it really was?

Better look out, else you will feel that way on Sunday if you do not see Creston Clarke in "Monsieur Beaucaire" tomorrow. Nothing better in the amusement line ever came to Newark.

Just read on another page what the Elmhurst (N. Y.) Gazette had to say of this play.

Think Over Your Christmas Gifts.

Our Store Will Be Open
This Evening.

We have given you the advice to shop early and avoid the late rush and crush. Listen! There are silver threads among the gold in this warning. The ninety and nine wait to shop on the "day before."

There will be no "day before" this year—it's Sunday.

Some even wait until about the time to put out the lights. Some even announce with a frown that they are not going to give any presents this year. But in the end the Christmas spirit is bound to get into their bones and away goes their resolution—at least this is the way with the men. What time then have they to "think it over"? At the last minute they get a list of appropriate presents and read it over.

For Elder Sister—A Silver Thimble and a Muff Chain. Fancy elder sister capering around Christmas morning with a thimble in one hand and a muff chain in the other.

For the Minister—A sermon case—perhaps he preaches extemporaneously.

No time left to think about it—and they are lucky to get anything at that late hour. You can't give suitable Christmas presents without taking time to look and think it over.

Somebody's Depending Upon You for Christmas.

We Would Suggest Furs for Christmas.

There are not only many kinds of furs, but many ways of giving—either a nice fur scarf—a nice fur set—a nice fur muff—a nice fur coat—a set of children's furs—Fur robes for the baby cart—In addition to the very large line of furs which we carry, we have arranged for this week with a furrier to send us a sample line of fur scarfs ranging from $5 to $25. This will add largely to our assortment of Grey Squirrels, Sable Foxes, Russian Martens and Other small fur pieces. Also fur coats for children. These are a novelty. Fur Coats in sizes from 6 to 12 years.

We Have Reduced Our Cloaks.

On account of the remarkably fine weather we find the cloak business has been held back. Consequently this gives us a very heavy cloak stock. In order to reduce it we shall reduce the prices this week. This is earlier than usual and you will find a splendid assortment for your selection. All the ladies' coats will be reduced in price and we are showing a big variety in all the dressy coats. Ask to see our Christmas line of evening coats at $22. The Children's Coats are also heavy. We have reduced these prices. We also will be showing two strong lines for Christmas numbers—one is an assortment of 54 coats all marked

$3.95 each.

Another is an assortment of 47 coats all marked

$5.00 each.

MT. VERNON KNIGHTS ARE TO BE ENTERTAINED HERE ON JANUARY 12.

Hopewell Man Has Two Old Deeds
—Ready for Newark Bowlers
—Other Matters.

Mt. Vernon, O. Dec. 15.—St. Luke's Commandery, No. 24, Knights Templar of Newark, extends an invitation to Clinton commandery, No. 5, K. T., this city, to participate in their social session on the night of January 12, 1906, at Assembly Hall in that city. Dancing, cards and a banquet will be enjoyed from 8 to 12 o'clock. Sir Knights will be privileged to be accompanied by one lady. All Knights Templar must appear in full uniform, except sword, to be admitted, as this will be a Knight Templar function, and not a full dress party. Any Sir Knight that accepts will write E. H. Franklin, eminent commander, Newark.

Two Old Deeds.
Gratiot, O., Dec. 15.—C. C. Terry, a prominent farmer of Hopewell township, has produced two land grants or deeds, that for age "take the cake." The first of these deeds is for U. S. military lands, and was dated January 29, 1826, and signed by President John Quincy Adams. The second is a conveyance of school lands and is dated January 25, 1835. Mr. Terry received these deeds from the heirs of William Bonfield, the property never having left the Bonfield family from the time of the original grant until it was transferred to Mr. Terry.

Ready for Newark Bowlers.
Coshocton, Dec. 15.—The Star bowling club held a practice by way of getting into form for the match games for the purse with the Hayes All Stars of Newark, scheduled for tonight. Manager Hildebrand announces the following line up to go against the Newark aggregation: Hildebrand, Glosier, Webster, Miller, Edwards. Arrangements have been made with Gail Hamilton to serve the banquet in the dining room of the Star restaurant immediately following the contest. Among the high scores rolled by members of the club in practice last night were Webster 212 and Arnold 203.

Newark Guest Present.
Coshocton, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Marquand of Conesville, delightfully entertained a few friends Tuesday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Laura Mulligan. There were present Prof and Mrs. J. G. Smailes, Miss Sarah Smailes of New Moscow, Mrs. Lanning of Newark, Misses Mollie Giffen, Belle Bown, Beatrice Tumblin and Mr. M. S. Marquand.

Mrs. J. C. Childs' Death.

Governor Herrick Commutes Sentence to 20 Years—Will be Released in Few Months.

Addis Lewis, who was sent from Newark to the penitentiary to serve a life sentence will be liberated within the next few months. A special telegram to the Advocate announces the commutation of Lewis' sentence as follows:

Columbus, Dec. 15.—Gov. Herrick this morning commuted the life sentence of Addis Lewis, Licking county prisoner in the pen. to 20 years. Lewis was received at the penitentiary in 1894 for grand larceny and was sentenced to life imprisonment under the habitual criminal act. His commutation together with the good time made during his incarceration, will earn him his discharge from the prison some time during the next 18 months.

Talked to the Ticker.

In a small village in Wisconsin, along the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, lived an old man who had not visited the depot many times, but happened to stroll in just when the agent was out after the mail. He seated himself, and suddenly the telegraph instrument began to click very rapidly. As the instrument did not cease nor the agent return, the old man became impatient. He had only an indistinct notion of the telegraph and telephone. Stepping over to the instrument, he loudly said:

"The agent is not here, so please wait a minute, and I will call him!"—Magazine of Fun.

Because of the growing scarcity of timber matches are now being made of paper, rolled spirally and dipped in wax or stearine, which prevents unrolling and gives rigidity. The roll is bent into lengths which are then dipped in the phosphorous composition. The matches are said to burn well.

He Got What He Was Looking For, But--

AMONG the passengers on a western train recently was a woman very much over-dressed, accompanied by a bright looking nurse and a self-willed, tyrannical boy of about three years.

The boy aroused the indignation of the passengers by his continued shrieks and kicks and screams and his viciousness toward his patient nurse. He tore her bonnet, scratched her hands and finally spat in her face without a word of remonstrance from the mother.

Whenever the nurse manifested any firmness the mother chided her sharply. Finally the mother composed herself for a nap, and about the time the boy had slapped the nurse for the fifth time a bug came sailing in and flew on the window of the nurse's seat. The boy at once tried to catch it.

The nurse caught his hand and said coaxingly:

"Harry mustn't touch. Bug will bite Harry."

Harry screamed savagely and began to kick and pounce the nurse.

The mother, without opening her eyes or lifting her head, cried out sharply:

"Why do you tease that child so, Mary? Let him have what he wants at once."

"But, ma'am, it's a--"

"Let him have it, I say."

Thus encouraged, Harry clutched at the bug and caught it. The screams of pain that followed brought tears of joy to the passengers' eyes.

The mother awoke again.

"Mary," she cried, "let him have it."

Mary turned in her seat and said confusedly:

"He's got it, ma'am."

"What is it?" languidly asked the mother as the screams increased.

"A wasp, ma'am," said the nurse.

Natural Remedy.

A prominent politician has a wife who is a model of domestic carefulness. She has a talent for making bread and takes great pride in having her loaves turn out well.

One evening she had set the batch of dough to rise in the kitchen and was reading in the parlor when her six-year-old boy came running to her, crying, "Mamma, mamma, there's a mouse jumped into your bread pan!"

The good woman sprang from her seat.

"Did you take him out?" she asked frantically.

"No'm, but I done just as good. I threw the cat in, and she's diggin' after him to beat the band!"—New York Times.

From His Point of View.

The button box was an unfeeling source of amusement to little Jack, but he had a habit of scattering its contents all over the carpet. When told to pick them up, he was too tired. His mother sat down in a chair beside him, with a small switch in her hand, and repeated her instructions. He eyed the switch apprehensively for a moment, then, looking at his mother, he said with grave reproach, "Mamma, you jes' spoil all my comf't."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Too Gay.

"Do you mean to say that you refuse to allow your daughter to marry my son?" exclaimed the lady from Chicago. "Why, we have royal blood in our veins!"

"That's just the reason," said Steadyman. "I'm afraid it might crop out."—Detroit Free Press.

A Risk.

"Why don't you do something philanthropic?"

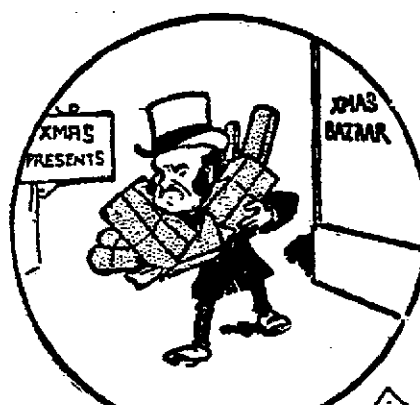

"I'm afraid to," answered Senator Sorghum. "If I show that I have any money beyond my actual needs somebody will be asking where I got it."—Washington Star.

Long Enough.

"Jake, I understand the fight you had last week was of no moment."

"No, sah, it didn't las' more'n a moment. Boss, but widin dat time I sholy got enough to las' me!"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

BURGLARS VISIT JOHNSTOWN

TWO RINGS, BED CLOTHING AND WEARING APPAREL ARE STOLEN.

Musical Dec. 20—Mrs. Buxton's Sister, Johnstown News Paragraphs.

Johnstown, O. Dec. 15—The dwelling of O. W. Brown on Pratt avenue was entered by burglars sometime during Tuesday night and several articles stolen, among them being a watch chain, two rings, some bed clothing, and wearing apparel. The thieves gained admission through a door on the front porch the lock being a broken one. There is no clue whatever to the guilty ones, but the frequency with which this petty thieving is occurring is going to lead to the capture of somebody one of these days, mark it.

The Epworth Leaguers of the Johnstown Methodist church announce a rare musical treat for December 20, at the church auditorium. Prof. George E. Crowell, violinist, graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Wurzburg, Bavaria, Germany, is a musician of remarkable ability and skill and wherever he has appeared in this country he has received most favorable comments from the press.

W. C. Mitchell has retired from the grocery business in Johnstown, having sold his entire stock of groceries and store furniture to Baker & Payne, the transfer being made the first of the week.

Mrs. H. J. Buxton has received word recently of the critical illness of her sister, Mrs. Harvey Gates, at her home at Dorchester, Nebraska. The many Johnstown friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gates will anxiously await news of her restoration to usual health.

D. L. Palmer has moved into the dwelling rooms over the postoffice, recently vacated by Charles Taylor who moved to one of the C. M. Lewis' cottages on Williams street. Mr. Palmer has rented this dwelling property on Maple avenue to parties who will take possession about January 1.

William A. Ashbrook left for Indianapolis on Thursday to arrange for a meeting of the executive committee of the National Editorial Association. The Methodist Sunday school will hold its Christmas entertainment on Christmas night. A fine program has been prepared and a Christmas tree will be one of the features of the entertainment.

Mark Battee is again connected with the business interests of the village, having recently purchased a half interest in the Pratt avenue livery stock. Battee & Huston again being the firm in charge of this stable.

A masque carnival will be held at the rink on Wednesday evening, December 20. Prizes will be given to the most comic dressed couple and lady and gentleman skaters. Prizes will also be given for winners in the hurdle race, obstacle race, potato race and other contests.

This evening the members of the Epworth League will hold a social at the home of M. D. Shrader. A fine program has been arranged and a pleasant time is assured all who attend.

Popular Delaware Pastor Receives a Call From Kansas—Is Well Known Here.

Rev. Paul R. Hickok, former assistant pastor of the "old stone church" at Cleveland and for the past two years pastor of the Presbyterian church at Delaware, has been extended a call to become pastor of a large Presbyterian church at Wichita, Kas.

Whether or not Rev. Hickok will accept the call will depend largely upon a visit he will make shortly at Wichita. Mr. Hickok is well known in Newark especially among the National Guardsmen. He was a chaplain here during the big division encampment two years ago.

CHRISTMAS CHEER FOR NEWARK POOR

SALVATION ARMY ARRANGING TO MAKE DONATIONS ON DECEMBER 25.

Money, Food and Clothing Needed—Will You Do Your Part in Helping?

At Christmas time last year the Newark Salvation Army sent baskets of food, each containing enough for five people, to 64 families. At the Christmas tree entertainment 120 children who otherwise would have no Christmas joy, were made happy. During the winter the Salvation Army paid the rent of several poor families and distributed 3,000 garments among the destitute.

This good work should appeal to everybody. It can't be done this year unless the funds, food and clothing are provided.

The Salvation Army now has a kettle "boiling" on the public square and invites contributions. Drop in a penny if you can spare no more. A dollar, a dime or any amount will be accepted gratefully. Remember that your contribution whatever it may be, will help make some poor person more comfortable and more happy on Christmas day. As you pass the kettle remember to do your part. Captain Beardsell deserves hearty co-operation.

CHEAP FUEL

Nothing is more cheerful or economical than a little wood for your fire place. I have a few cords and will deliver any place in Newark. Leave your order at the Weiland Bakery. Chas. Jones. 12-15-05.

Lord Radstock although a peer of the realm, is not a lord of Parliament. He is an Irish peer, the title having been conferred on his grandfather, a distinguished admiral, who won a naval victory off the coast of Lagos in 1797.

A. J. Seaman, an eccentric bond buyer of Omaha, who lives on 9 cents a day, is receiving hundreds of letters from women who wish to marry him. Seaman's story was printed in the Sunday papers. To those enclosing a stamp Seaman is answering on a postal card, making 1 cent on each application.

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, Dec. 15.—On Friday afternoon the members of the Winter Picnic Club met at the home of Mrs. W. J. Bond on East Broadway and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon in needle work, and in discussing an elegant lunch. This club has a history. Some two weeks ago cards were mailed by some unknown person to about twenty ladies of the village, asking them to meet at a certain place, and surprise Mrs. L. M. Robinson, at her home on West Broadway. The invitation explained what they should bring to eat. No one knew who was to be present, and when they had all assembled the surprises were as much surprised as was Mrs. Robinson, and when the edibles had all been displayed it was found that an exceedingly sumptuous repast was in store for them. At that meeting a Winter Picnic club was formed, consisting of those present, together with a few others, until the number reached twenty-two. The club assembled to meet at the home of Mrs. Bond as above stated.

Mrs. Alice T. Kildner was in Columbus Saturday to see her aunt, Mrs. L. B. Johnson, who has been making her home with her brother, Rev.

KAYLOR MADE NO DEFENSE AT ALL

HIS WIFE OBTAINED A DIVORCE IN THE COURTS AT PITTSBURG.

Defendant Conducted Evangelistic Services in This City a Few Years Ago.

A few years ago Rev. J. H. Kaylor, an evangelist, sent out by the Presbyterian Board of Missions, conducted a series of services in the First Presbyterian church of this city. Accompanying him was a Miss Robinson, a young vocalist of much power, who assisted in the services. Dr. Kaylor was a forceful speaker and it is believed did good work here. He became well known to those who attended the services. A dispatch to the Advocate from Youngstown Thursday announced his suspension. Additional facts are given below:

Youngstown, O., Dec. 15.—The divorce which his wife received from him, added to her frequent letters to the official board of the United Presbyterian church, caused the suspension of the Rev. J. H. Kaylor by the Cleveland Presbytery, which met at Struthers. He was dismissed from the ministry after his case had come up at the executive session.

The divorce was granted his wife at Pittsburgh. She alleged his relations with Miss Robinson, a singer, who was with him on his evangelistic trips, were improper. He did not make a defense.

Ten years ago he was an attorney at Kansas City. He was converted by a woman evangelist at Chicago, who, a short time afterward, married him, saying she would reform him. He became a lay evangelist and was more than ordinarily successful, as his records in the church will show. He was later taken into the ministry, and since has been connected with the mission board of the church. Kaylor always took his wife with him on his trips. He was going from Pittsburgh to Chicago, and she was to go along, but at the last moment did not. Miss Robinson, assigned by the church board, accompanied him. It was as the result of this trip that the divorce was obtained.

ROLEY-MURPHY

Pretty Wedding Thursday Evening at Home of Mrs. J. P. Murphy, on Locust Street.

A wedding, charming in its simplicity and quiet elegance, was solemnized Thursday evening at the home of the bride on West Locust street, when Miss Mary Alice Murphy and Mr. George Merton Roley were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. L. C. Sparks officiating.

At 6 o'clock to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Mary Baldwin, the bridal party entered the parlor, the groom and his best man, Mr. Frank Neighbor, the matron of honor, Mrs. Frank Neighbor charming in a dainty white gown and carrying yellow chrysanthemums, the little ring bearer, Miss Evelyn Murphy, a niece of the bride, then the bride beautiful in a gown of white organdy and carrying red roses. The bridal couple stood in a bower of green foliage and Rev. Mr. Sparks, using the impressive ring service, performed the ceremony.

The rooms were artistically decorated with foliage and holly, and candles, with red shades, shed their rosy glow over the rooms. The decorations of the bride's table were carried out with the same color scheme, beautiful red roses adding to the general effect.

Covers at the bride's table were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Roley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Neighbor, Miss Carrie Gleichauf, Miss Mary Baldwin, Miss Roxana Allen, Miss Sarah Caine, Dr. Corne, Mr. Fred Gleichauf, Mr. John Roley, Mr. L. M. Osborne. When the bride's cake was cut Dr. Corne received the ring, the groom the thimble, and Miss Mary Baldwin got the money.

The out of town guests were Miss Nell Young of Reynoldsburg, Mr. L. M. Osborne of Detroit, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burke of Fredonia, Mr. Emma Caine and Miss Sarah Caine of Columbus, Messrs. Fred and Paul Simpson of Fredonia.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James P. Murphy and has a large circle of friends won by her charming personality. Mr. Roley is a traveling salesman and is also well known here. Mr. and Mrs. Roley left last evening for a few weeks' trip to Florida and on their return will be at home to their friends at 225 West Locust street.

A Seattle judge granted 17 divorces in 75 minutes. The day, in one case a man was granted a divorce by the "Shake" and in another case his wife had circulated a report that he was an Anarchist.

Miss Emily Carver, of the White House, is as good as a divorcee and spends her time in Switzerland and the musical family.

HALE AND WELL AT 74

Mr. George W. Tift of Troy, N. Y., Cured of Heavy Cold That Had Settled On His Lungs by Father John's Medicine.

"A heavy cold settled on my lungs and throat. My tonsils swelled and I was sick all over. I used remedies usually given in such cases, but with little benefit. Then I tried Father John's Medicine. A few doses had so good an effect that I kept on and was made well and strong. I have not had a cold or cough since although 74 years of age. I think it is a grand medicine for all complaints it is recommended for. Every family should keep it in the house." (Signed) Geo. F. Tift, 187 River St. Troy, N. Y.

Father John's Medicine prevents Pneumonia and Consumption and cures all Throat and Lung Troubles. Builds you up, and repairs your strength. No alcohol or poisonous drugs. Cures colds or croup had.

A Presentation of Children Shoes

There is nothing so soothing to the mind of a boy or girl as a new pair of shoes on a Christmas morn. As they stand examining them, all the pleasures of childhood come to them. The sled that's been hanging in the shed for months and the toy ponds and all the glory of a child's mind is brought before them. We have taken special care to crowd our children's department with the best that can be gotten for this event. Don't fail to see this department.

LIQUOR CASES TO BE DECIDED 19TH

PROMINENT DOCTORS AND DRUGGISTS OF UTICA ARE DEFENDANTS.

Charged They Violated Beall Law—Child's Death—Letts-Perkins Wedding.

Utica, O., Dec. 15.—In the Utica liquor cases, in which a number of prominent druggists and physicians were charged with violating the Beall local option law in Utica and in which seven counts against four persons were tried before Mayor Bricker, the mayor has withheld his decision until December 19, at 10 o'clock a. m. The circumstances leading up to these cases, were as follows: Some months ago Mayor Bricker, so it is said, wrote to the Anti-Saloon League at Columbus to the effect that he suspected the "dry" law was being violated in Utica, and asked that inspectors be detailed to investigate, and names of some of the persons suspected of being violators were furnished. In response some detective work was done, which resulted in charges being preferred against a number of druggists and physicians. W. V. Decker a clerk in Kirkpatrick's drug store, was charged on two counts with selling whisky to a detective; W. P. Kirkpatrick was charged with selling whisky to another detective on a prescription from Dr. Garrison; Harry Rees, druggist, filling a prescription written by Dr. Garrison, calling for whisky; Dr. Garrison, writing a prescription for whisky. The prosecution was represented by Attorney Doty of the Anti-Saloon League, while the defense was represented by Attorney Phil Smythe in all the cases except that of Dr. Garrison, in which Daugherty served.

ADVOCATE PATTERNS FROM THE LATEST NEW YORK FASHIONS.

5228 Child's Night-Gown or Wrapper, 2 to 3 Years. CHILD'S NIGHT-GOWN OR WRAPPER.

Such a simple gown as this one is sure to be in demand for the materials of cold weather and is equally desirable for the sleeping garments and for the wrapper that can be slipped on over the night-gown. In the illustration it is made of a pretty French flannel and is designed for the latter use but will be found appropriate for the flannellette, and, indeed, for all materials used both for wrappers and gowns. The tucks at fronts and back provide abundant fullness below while they mean perfect smoothness over the shoulders and the round collar is absolutely comfortable as well as becoming. The sleeves are the full ones that are always most to be desired for garments of the sort.

The little gown is made with fronts and back, fitted by means of shoulder and under arm seams, and is closed at the front by means of buttons and button-holes worked through the hem. The sleeves are gathered at both upper and lower edges and are finished at the wrist with wide cuffs.

The quantity of material required for the medium size (6 years) is 4 yards 27 or 3 yards 36 inches wide with 2 yards of edging. The pattern is cut in sizes for girls of 2, 4, 6 and 8 years.

ALEXANDRIA INSTITUTE JAN. 31

PRIZES WILL BE OFFERED FOR BEST ESSAYS WRITTEN BY PUPILS.

Two Thousand Chickens Killed at Lloyd's—Operation on Charles Marshal.

Alexandria, O., Dec. 15.—The executive committee met here a few days ago and completed the program for the coming Farmers' Institute to be held on Wednesday and Thursday, January 31 and February 1. The judges and points on which manuscripts for the literary contest were fixed, and it is now up to our farmers, their wives, sons, daughters and any student in our High schools to write a paper on either of the two subjects heretofore announced. The names of the judges will not be announced until the manuscripts are in the hands of the secretary. The manuscripts will be judged on composition 3, thought 3, practical application 4, total 10. No member of our High schools in Licking county will be barred from entering this contest and any whose occupation is farming or whose home life is on the farm, living in St. Albans or adjoining townships is eligible. First and second prizes are $16 on each subject offered, and we hope to interest all our young people in this part of the program. The subjects are, "What a Farmer's Home Should Be," and "How to Make the Farm More Attractive to Our Boys." The papers must be in the hands of the secretary not later than January 10, must be plainly written, not exceeding 1200 words. The successful contestants to read their papers at the institute. We feel our superintendents can well afford to take this matter up in the High schools for the good of the schools and pupils, as well as for the interest of the institute. The Alexandria Farmers' Institute is Wednesday and Thursday, January 31 and February 1.

The biggest kill of chickens ever made in Alexandria in one day was made a few days ago at J. D. Lloyd's, when about two thousand chickens lost their lives. They were the finest all through ever shipped out of the village.

Charles Marshal who was recently operated on at a hospital in Chicago, went through the operation successfully, and although suffering from its effect, is doing well, and his physicians express the belief that he will be a well man inside of six months.

CHRISTMAS AT SANDRINGHAM

How the Royal Family of Great Britain Celebrates.

The royal family of Great Britain keeps up Christmas at Sandringham in a right royal and old-fashioned way. Tasteful decorations with holly and mistletoe abound everywhere. Every one comes down to the dining room, where breakfast is taken en famille. Every one has presents for some one else. All the servants and tenants are remembered, so that there are many happy hearts on Christmas morning. Substantial joints, geese and turkeys, with other good things, have a delightful way of turning up at the very houses where they are most wanted.

After breakfast the royal family and guests and the ladies and gentlemen of the household go on a tour of inspection to view the decorations, and then, provided the weather is fine, they walk to church, which, of course, has been tastefully adorned in appropriate and approved Christmas fashion. On the entry of the king and queen the congregation rises—that is the only formality observed. The king's domestic chaplain takes the service—a bright choral service, with Christmas hymns and an anthem.

Then comes luncheon—which is the children's dinner—attended by the king and queen and other members of the family. The Christmas pudding is brought in, blazing up merrily, to the intense delight of the little princes and princesses.

The late afternoon is the most exciting time for the juniors. The doors of a certain room have been kept rigorously fastened since the previous evening, her majesty and other members of her family having duly dressed a large Christmas tree therein. The door is opened, and the whole party troops in, while the royal children evince the greatest delight at the Christmas tree ablaze with lights and weighed down with presents. Afterward all sorts of games are entered into with a heartiness and zest that must surely appeal to every one.

Dinner comes along at 8:45, to which all guests staying in the house and many of the household are invited by the king. The king and queen and guests assemble in the drawing room first, and then a procession is formed, led, of course, by their majesties, who are followed in order of precedence by the others. The tables are laid in the grand salon. The guests are seated at small oval tables, the king and queen sitting opposite each other at one, and are waited on by special footmen. Boar's head, baron of beef and plum pudding are the staple dishes of the royal Christmas dinner.

After dinner there may be a dance or a command performance in the state ballroom, the walls of which are decorated by gorgeous Indian trophies presented to his majesty when he visited that country.—Pictorial Magazine.

The Universal Desire.

She was superbly dressed in the pinnacle of fashion and would have been beautiful but for a certain stern, businesslike expression that rather marred the sweetness of her face.

First looking up and down, she darted swiftly into a narrow passageway and was seen knocking at a door emblazoned with the legend: "Signor Oleo Margerita. Clairvoyant. Future Foretold."

The door opened. "Where is the signor?" she nervously demanded.

"In bed, mum."

"Horror! What's the matter with him?"

"Nervous prostration, brought on by overwork."

"Overwork?"

"Yes, mum. Since September he's been busy peering into the future for people who wanted to know the value of Christmas presents they would go to get so they'd know how much to spend on theirs."

Stiffing a shriek of despair, she sped away on the hunt for some other clairvoyant.—New York Herald.

A Topsy Turvy Party.

A topsy turvy party is good fun at Christmas. Everything is done at this party "the other way around." For instance, a very small Christmas tree is fastened to the ceiling upside down.

On the floor a number of packages should be laid. In the packages you must be sure to have the topsy turvy scheme. In all those intended for the girls you should put only such things as boys like or use, and the older the guest the simpler should the toys be. The next thing in this topsy turvy party after the distribution of the packages is to have some one enter the room dressed as Santa Claus with an empty basket on his back or in his hand, but instead of giving each person a present he must demand one from each person. Later on in the evening the guests play a game of forfeits, when they have a chance of getting back their gifts.

A Few Christmas Don'ts.

Don't fuss, don't hurry, don't worry. Don't fret. Christmas has come and gone many times and will come and go again. Don't do one single thing, then, for at least two weeks that will jar you into forgetting that it was the birthday of peace and good will.—Philadelphia Record.

Christmas at the North Pole.

The candles burn on the Christmas tree; They burn with a ruddy flame, And the little Eskimo looks with glee Upon picture book and game.

He dances in ecstasies of delight, And he claps his hands for joy, And then climbs into the branches bright, Where jingles the rosy toy.

Then with an expression of peace supreme And a twinkle of heartfelt fun, The candles he plucks in a lotus dream And gazes when one by one.

AMUSEMENTS

CRESTON CLARKE TOMORROW.

Regarding the attraction at the Auditorium tomorrow matinee and evening, the Elmira (N. Y.) Gazette, has this to say:

Elmira went wrong—very far wrong—last evening. While a few hundred people went to the Lyceum, the thousands were elsewhere while the few hundred were enjoying the rarest treat that has yet been offered at the theatre. Creston Clarke came to Elmira unknown. He was here but a few hours, but the time was sufficient to impress Elmira with the fact that he is one of the greatest actors on the American stage today. And his production of "Monsieur Beaucaire," with all its faithful attention to detail its elaborate costuming, its magnificent settings and its superb cast—well, one feels incompetent to say enough good things about it.

Richard Mansfield attempted "Beaucaire," and failed. Creston Clarke took it up and triumphed. Mansfield in the first place, cannot look the part; Creston Clarke does. Mansfield cannot read the lines with the proper French accent; Mr. Clarke does it like a born Frenchman. "Beaucaire" is a character that might too easily be spoiled by rant and overdoing. But Mr. Clarke keeps it within bounds to the shade of a hair. There are times when one trembles lest he will go too far, but never does he overstep and from each climax he emerges with added laurels.

It is not strange that Creston Clarke should be a great man of the stage—and he is destined to become greater ere many more years pass over his head. It will be of interest to know that Creston Clarke, although still a young man, owns the Walnut street theatre in Philadelphia and also a house in London. He was educated in this country and in Paris—which fact may account for his perfect mastery of the French dialect.

Of the company which supported Mr. Clarke it can only be said to be worthy of him.

RAJAH OF BHONG.

When that astute manager, Eugene Spofford, arranged for the production of the musical comedy, the "Rajah of Bhong," he evidently had in mind a form of entertainment that would appeal to all classes of theatre goers. That his original ideas and subsequent formation of them were based upon keen observation of what the public really wants, is shown by the remarkable favor with which the offering has been received in all the principal cities. The song and comedy features embrace novelties that appeal to everybody from the most in conspicuous occupant of a gallery seat to the exacting box patron with the scrutinizing opera glass. There is not a dull moment in the entire performance one critic characterizing it as a "breezy, bustling go." It certainly is this and a great deal more, for the plot sustains a pretty love interest and the score embraces a number of musical numbers that are decidedly ambitious.

The cast is an excellent one and includes Mamie Elmore, Jennie Elmore, Lucy Burgess, A. C. Burgess, W. H. Brown, Richard Barlow, Ralph Moore, Alice Lester, Mayme Carson and a chorus of forty. The "Rajah of Bhong" will be seen for the first time in Newark, Wednesday, December 20.

SAN TOY.

The unrivaled success which has heretofore attended the production here of musical comedy which was originated in London, will no doubt be further exemplified when "San Toy" is presented here. Lovers of music have argued as to its merits in com-

Those who delight in an evening's musical entertainment will find "San Toy" one of the most delightful pieces that will be presented here this year. Auditorium one night.

FAD IN UNDERWEAR.

Steel Works Employee Covered His Body With Porous Plasters.

A new use for porous plasters was recently brought to light when it was discovered that a foreign employee of the Minnequa steel plant had converted a number of them into a suit of underwear, says the Pueblo Chieftain. It was not exactly a union suit, but was more on the crazy quilt order. The discovery was not made easily, and it was only after a strenuous effort that the foreigner was obliged to reveal to what use he had put the porous plasters which had been banded out to him "for medicinal purposes only."

As is known, all the employees of the Minnequa plant pay $1 a month for the privileges at the dispensary. Of the hundreds who call there each day comparatively few come to have injuries dressed. The balance are troubled with coughs and colds, rheumatism and a hundred other small ailments. A good per cent of them make regular calls and ask for liniment, salve or porous plasters without saying anything about their ailments. As a rule the attending physician takes it for granted that the men are in need of the different articles, and they are handed out without asking any questions other than to ascertain the name.

It was discovered, however, that the foreigner in question called almost every day for the plasters, and the physicians began to think that he was a healthy looking patient to be having so many pains. A few days later they were given the tip that there were some of the foreign employees of the plant who were wearing the plasters for underwear.

So a plan was laid to trap the artist who was doing the latest stunt in sanitary clothes wearing. They did not have long to wait, for on that evening the foreigner approached the window at the dispensary and whispered "Plaster." He was then invited into a room and was given to understand that it would please the court much if he would remove his clothing. The foreign gentleman realized that he "was up against it" and refused in no uncertain manner. However, he was given some help in doing the disrobing act. His ready to wear garments consisted of a shirt, a pair of overalls and a pair of shoes.

When these were removed, what the physicians and a few other workmen beheld was what resembled an Egyptian mummy. From the ankles up every portion of the foreigner's body was covered with porous plasters. They were pulled off until the operator grew tired of his task. Then the foreigner was given an unlimited amount of good advice, was told to get on his other articles of clothing and make a hasty exit. It is believed that a number of other employees are also exponents of the new fad.

WHOLE TRAIN IS NECESSARY

TO TRANSPORT GAS ENGINES FROM INDIANA TO GRANVILLE.

My Wheels 20 Feet in Diameter—To Be Installed at Gas Pumping Station.

Granville, O., Dec. 15.—The cement foundations for the two mammoth engines to be installed at the Lima pumping station, just south of the village, have been completed. The engines were shipped from Eaton, Ind., this week, and will probably arrive here next week. The engines are of the large cross compound class with compressors attached. In order to give some idea of their mammoth proportions it is only necessary to state that the low pressure cylinders will be 40x60 inches and the high pressure cylinders 24x60 inches, with a fly wheel twenty feet in diameter, weighing eighteen tons. The shaft is fifteen inches in diameter and is twelve feet in length. Ten large cars are required to transport this machinery. The heaviest parts will be taken to the gravel pit to be unloaded as it is feared the Lancaster bridge is not strong enough to bear up the heavy weight. It will require special trucks to haul these heavy engines. When the engines were moved from Eaton to the railroad station it required two traction engines and sixteen teams of horses to pull parts of it. The boilers have all been tested and are now ready to pipe the gas under them. Superintendent H. H. Montford is crowding his work here in order to be in shape when the monster engines arrive.

The Columbus Natural Gas company drilled in the No. 1 well on the Henrietta Belt farm, three miles southeast of Granville in Union township, last Friday. The well came in for about 1,500,000 feet, but after it had been shot the flow increased to 3,000,000 feet. Where this well was drilled it may properly be called wild cat territory, as it is fully half a mile from any other well. This shows that there is gas and plenty of it, both east and north of any of the other wells in the Union township field, as it is located further north and further east than any of them. Where the rig and string of tools will be taken has not yet been officially determined. It is said, however, that a test well will be put down on the Infirmary farm, adjoining the Belt farm on the west. This is the nearest well to Granville and the drillers are gradually working towards Granville and east of Granville. A number of the companies have put down a test well west of the Granby well, which came in dry last spring, about a quarter of a mile west of the Lancaster road. They seem to be testing the territory north, south and east of the Union township field. With one exception the wells have all been good. There are only two dry holes in this field, out of 52 wells, which certainly speaks well for the territory.

The Heisey well No. 3, on the I. N. White farm, in Union township, is expected to be drilled in this week. The other two wells are good producers and it is hoped that this one will prove equally as good.

A new company called the Wayne Oil and Gas company is taking leases southwest of Fredericktown. It is composed of farm owners in that section, and each man who leases to the company becomes a stockholder.

While one of the Utica company wells now being drilled on the George Sperry farm required only 25 feet of drive pipe to reach bed rock, the other, 2000 feet west, took 140 feet. The first Sperry well, perhaps 2000 feet still further west, required 300 odd feet.

George Lang was able to be out last Saturday after being laid up as a result of burns sustained at a well a week before. A coupling on a high pressure line gave way and the escaping gas ignited and pretty nearly blew George off the earth. His face was fearfully burned.

Lee Ogden has completed a rig and Stratton will drill a wild cat well in the northwestern corner of Ashland county near New London, for Emery of Bradford, Pa.

Pearsall is at present cleaning out the original Stinson well for the Central Ohio. When that is done he will clean one on the land of the Robinson children west of Brandon.

The Standard Oil company, by one of its branches known as the Ohio State Oil company, is about to begin development of the oil field of this section. It has made a location for a well on the McKee land about a mile and a half northeast of Bladensburg. The Mohican company held several good sized leases within a short distance of the chosen location, but not knowing that any early development was in prospect, it surrendered them, but a short time ago.
